Reviews from Other Campers: 1) The following review excerpts are from About.Com Campground Reviews web site (<http://camping.about.com/od/campgroundreviews/>): "...Hot water showers and flush toilets are included and there's great swimming or floating in the Eel River just across the road. I haven't found better site separation and privacy outside of the Pacific Northwest rain forests." 2) Also from About.Com Campground Reviews "This campground is heavenly! The sites are covered with a thin layer of gorgeous red pine needles and no dust...Tall trees canopy above you while the perfect amount of sunlight creeps in. Sites are huge and privatized so much that you can actually have your own camping trip instead of sharing your campout with others..." 3) Also from About.Com Campground Reviews "I think this is a great campground because it is in a beautiful setting, and it has clean and spacious campsites. If you search the different sites, many are very private. It is nestled among the huge redwoods, and it's very mountainous, instead of one big flat area. I highly recommended it!"
