Reviews from Other Campers: 1) The following excerpts are from a campground description found in the "U.S. National Forest Campground Guide" web site (<http://www.forestcamping.com/index.htm>) : "...The campground is adjacent to one of the few high mountain lakes - Kangaroo Lake, accessible with a car, in Klamath National Forest. It has one spur of walk-in tent sites and a loop that meanders across the top of a mountain. Views from some campsites are breathtaking. Mature conifers provide good shade. Although the ground is rocky, a pleasant variety of ground covers, including Manzanita, provide lots of green - a very scenic campground. The walk-in tent sites are very nice but with little privacy. Access to the lake and day-use area is through the walk-in tent site area...The parking aprons are gravel...Kangaroo Lake is 25 acres. Access to lake with canoe, raft, or kayak is but a short walk from parking area..."
