Reviews from Other Campers: 1) The following excerpts are from a campground description found in the "U.S. National Forest Campground Guide" web site (<http://www.forestcamping.com/index.htm>) : "...The campground sits on a bluff overlooking the Pacific Ocean. Almost every site has a view of the ocean. Sea Otters can be seen bobbing around in the waves and we heard Sea Lions, but didn't see them. Sunsets (and sunrises) from the sites are outstanding. Campground is semi-manicured with Zoysia-like grass and tall Pampas. The Pampas provides a wall of seclusion between many of the sites. If camping by the ocean is the objective, then Kirk Creek is the place to go. Across from the campground entrance is Nacimiento Rd. A drive up this paved road with a picnic lunch will provide some awesome views of the Pacific Ocean...The parking aprons are gravel and grass...Access to Pacific Ocean beach is via a short but precarious trail..."
