Reviews from Other Campers: 1) We (Camping With A View) We visited this campground on a day trip in late June 2006. This is a small campground / marina with only one row of 22 sites bordering the shore of St. Joseph Bay off of the Gulf of Mexico. The views of the Bay are excellent. Camp sites are close together; but because there is only one row of sites bordering the water, there will be no one in front or behind you. Click on the right banner photo above to get a feel for the spacing of camp sites on either side.

The grounds could use some landscaping and the overall appearance of the campground was a little worn. Only one of the sites is a pull-thru - all others are back-in. The current owners purchased this campground in November 2005 and are making improvements.
