Beautiful View: Reservoir, Mountains and Mixed Forest

Campground is situated along the Snake River drainage at the north end of Palisades Reservoir. Area sits on a northern exposure with lodgepole pine and conifer trees. Best Sites: Per ranger district personnel, all sites have views of the mountains and most have views of the reservoir; C1, C5, C6, C7, C10 and C11 have good views of the reservoir.

 See notes in the Introduction.

Reviews from Other Campers: 1) The following excerpts are from a campground description found in the "U.S. National Forest Campground Guide" web site (<http://www.forestcamping.com/index.htm>) : "...The campground, adjacent to northern end of the Palisades Reservoir and located on a mountainside, is composed of three loops - A, B and C. Loops A and B can accommodate RVs and tents with many sites wide enough for a boat trailer. The camping sites in these loops are more open, some of which are terraced with tent pads. Some have a view of Palisades Reservoir. Loop C is restricted to tents and slide-in RVs. It is furthest up the mountainside with some sites having great views of the reservoir. The sites in this loop are heavily wooded - none are in the open. The campground is a boater's paradise, and as a result, it is very popular and full most weekends. It's a good idea to make reservations if camping on a weekend. The campground is loaded with berries, namely huckleberries, raspberries (in Loop C), serviceberries and snowberries. Although overall this is a very nice campground, Loop C is without a doubt the nicest of the three loops. Except for Loop C, privacy between sites is minimal to fair. The parking aprons are gravel..."
