Reviews from Other Campers: 1) The following excerpts are from a campground description found in the "U.S. National Forest Campground Guide" web site (<http://www.forestcamping.com/index.htm>) : "...Sites are open, surrounded by pines, hardwoods, rhododendrons and mountains; a very pleasant little campground. Some sites are adjacent to either Dickey Creek or Raccoon Branch. This is a good campground to use as a home base for exploring the area and enjoying the fall colors...Parking aprons are paved. Some sites have "V" aprons, e.g., one for trailer, one for towing vehicle...Five drinking fountains are scattered throughout campground..."
